Securities Industry Continuing Education Program

Firm Element Advisory

The Securities Industry/Regulatory Council on Continuing Education (the “Council”) publishes the Firm Element Advisory (“FEA”) to identify current regulatory and sales practice issues for possible inclusion in Firm Element training plans. The topics have been taken from a review of industry regulatory and self-regulatory organization (“SRO”) publications and announcements of significant events.

As announced in November 2006, the Council now issues the FEA on a semi-annual basis. Every FEA contains new material, denoted by a “[New]” next to the title, as well as preexisting material that has been updated, denoted by an “[Updated]” next to the title. Issues appearing in prior FEAs that are no longer deemed to be current are removed from the current FEA.

The Council suggests that firms use the FEA as an aid in developing their Firm Element Needs Analysis. Firms are reminded that the FEA should not be relied on as a comprehensive list of all areas to be considered for a firm’s Needs Analysis. Firms should review the FEA and determine which topics would be relevant for inclusion in Firm Element training based on the firm’s product offerings, structure and business line(s). Firms are encouraged to review prior FEAs and consider topics noted in the prior Advisories that have since been removed from the current FEA should they continue to be relevant to the firm’s business, structure or product offerings.

The FEA is designed to identify each topic briefly and then provide links to relevant documents issued on the specified subjects. Although the FEA is now designed for use on the web, the document can be printed. Be advised that separate printing would need to be conducted for each link to encompass the full document and subjects covered.

In addition to the FEA material, the Firm Element Organizer is an additional resource that can assist with developing Firm Element training plans. This is an easy-to-use software application that enables the search of an extensive database of regulatory resources related to specific investment products or services. The results of a search can then be edited into a document that may assist in developing a Firm Element training plan.

Please Note: On July 30, 2007, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, FINRA, began operations. FINRA was formed through the consolidation of NASD and the enforcement, member regulation and arbitration operations of NYSE Regulation. The FINRA rulebook currently consists of both NASD Rules and certain NYSE Rules that FINRA has incorporated (Incorporated NYSE Rules). The Incorporated NYSE Rules apply solely to dual members of FINRA and the NYSE. In certain instances, the FEA continues to use legacy references to NASD and NYSE member regulation.

[Updated] Anti-Money Laundering

Providing SIPC Information to Customers

Effective November 6, 2007, new NASD Rule 2342 requires all FINRA members – unless they are excluded from membership in SIPC and are not SIPC members, or they exclusively sell investments that are ineligible for SIPC protection – to inform all new customers that they may obtain information about SIPC, including the SIPC brochure, by contacting SIPC. Members must also provide SIPC’s Web site address and telephone number. Members must provide customers with the same information in writing, at least once each year. Firms that are members of both FINRA and NYSE must also comply with comparable NYSE Rule 409A (SIPC Disclosures).

Gifts and Business Entertainment

Charitable Contributions

The solicitation of substantial charitable contributions by employees or agents of a customer acting in a fiduciary capacity raises potential conflicts of interest that deserve careful consideration by member firms. NASD and NYSE jointly issued guidance to suggest some of the policies and procedures that firms should consider adopting to address these conflicts.

Insurance/Annuities

[Updated] Life Settlements

Sales of existing life insurance policies to third parties, often referred to as "life settlements," have grown exponentially in recent years, and that trend appears likely to continue. Member firms and associated persons are reminded that life settlements involving variable insurance policies are securities transactions, and firms and associated persons involved in such transactions are subject to applicable NASD rules.

NASDAQ Notice to Members 06-38 Member Obligations with Respect to the Sale of Existing Variable Life Insurance Policies to Third Parties (August 2006)

Sales of Unregistered Equity-Indexed Annuities

NASDAQ addressed the responsibility of firms to supervise the sale, by their associated persons, of equity-indexed annuities (“EIAs”) that are not registered under the federal securities laws.

Margin and Margin Accounts

[New] Portfolio Margin Pilot Program

The CBOE, NASD and NYSE have issued notices announcing rule changes permitting members, on a pilot basis, to margin certain products according to a prescribed portfolio margin methodology. The disclosure statement and written acknowledgement for use with the proposed portfolio margin program must be furnished to customers using a portfolio margin account. In addition, in connection with these recent amendments, firms are advised of the suitability determination obligations surrounding portfolio margining.

[New] Disclosure of Voting Loss and Dividend Status in Margin Accounts

Member organizations must provide effective disclosure to customers regarding the possibility of their losing proxy voting rights for securities held in margin accounts. A similar issue is raised where margin customers are at risk of receiving payments-in-lieu of dividends where their shares are lent past the ex-dividend date. Good business practice compels effective disclosure of this risk in plain English which can be understood by affected customers.

Municipal Securities

[New] Dealer Payments in Connection with the Municipal Securities Issuance Process

The MSRB has published a notice reminding dealers of the application of MSRB Rule G-17, on fair dealing, and Rule G-20, on gifts, gratuities and non-cash compensation, in connection with certain payments made and expenses reimbursed during the municipal securities issuance process.

MSRB Notice 2007-06 Dealer Payments in Connection with the Municipal Securities Issuance Process (January 29, 2007)

Municipal Fund Securities

Dealers are reminded that all advertisements of municipal fund securities (including 529 college savings plans) containing performance data submitted or caused to be submitted for publication by a dealer on or after December 1, 2005 must comply fully with MSRB Rule G-21, on advertising. The disclosure requirements are consistent with those required for mutual fund performance under SEC Rule 482.

On August 7, 2006, interpretive guidance regarding the marketing of 529 college savings plans became effective. The guidance is intended to ensure that dealers effecting transactions in the 529 college savings plan market fully understand their fair practice and disclosure obligations to their customers.

[Updated] Political Contributions and Solicitation of Municipal Securities Business

On June 8, 2006, the SEC approved an interpretive notice of the MSRB relating to the definition of solicitation for purposes of Rules G-37 and G-38 (the “Solicitation Guidance”). The Solicitation Guidance, among other matters, makes clear that the key element in determining whether a communication is considered a solicitation is whether the communication occurs with the purpose of obtaining or retaining municipal securities business.

[New] Transaction Reporting

With limited exceptions, MSRB Rule G-14 requires the reporting of municipal securities transactions within fifteen minutes of the execution of the trade. There are certain specified exceptions to this requirement. The rule allows transactions on a when, as and if issued basis to be reported within three hours; however, this exception will expire on December 31, 2007. Transactions should be reported in an accurate and timely manner, and only transactions in municipal securities should be submitted to the MSRB’s Real-time Transaction Reporting System (“RTRS”).

www.msrb.org, the MSRB has a special section on its Web site that offers detailed information on transaction reporting.

[Updated] Sales Practices

[Updated] Market Indexed/Linked Certificates of Deposit

Sales practice reviews have raised regulatory concerns relating to the marketing of certificates of deposit (“CDs”) that are linked to market indices. Of particular concern is the adequacy of disclosure materials used in connection with the sale of these instruments to customers and whether registered representatives and customers fully understand the product and how it differs from conventional CDs.

NYSE Information Memo 06-12 Disclosures and Sales Practices Concerning Market Indexed/Linked Certificates of Deposit (March 2006)

[Updated] Mutual Fund/Variable Annuity Sales Practice and Supervision

On September 7, 2007, the SEC approved new NASD Rule 2821, which will be effective on May 5, 2008. The rule includes suitability, disclosure, principal review, supervisory and training requirements, all tailored specifically to transactions in deferred variable annuities.

Disclosures made in connection with retail sales of investment company shares (mutual funds) and variable annuities have raised ongoing regulatory concerns, particularly with respect to the recently prohibited practice of directed brokerage, as well as issues involving revenue sharing and suitability. The NYSE has released an information memo clarifying requirements for disclosures and sales practices and to remind member organizations and associated persons of their disclosure obligations under existing NYSE and/or SEC rules.

New Senior Investors

Firms are urged to review and, where warranted, enhance their policies and procedures for complying with FINRA sales practice rules, as well as other applicable laws, regulations and ethical principles, in light of the special issues that are common to many senior investors. Two specific areas of concern are the suitability of recommendations to, and communications with, senior investors. Communications include both “free lunch” seminars, and the use of professional designations that suggest expertise in retirement planning or working with senior investors.
